

Annex E – Beaufort Scale

The Beaufort scale is divided into a series of values, from 0 for calm winds to 12 and above for hurricanes. Each value represents a specific range and classification of wind speeds with accompanying descriptions of the effects on surface features. The values refer to well developed wind waves of the open sea. The lag effect between the wind getting up and the sea increasing should be remembered.